

Foreign Language and Area Studies (FLAS) Fellowships Call for Applications

2017 Summer Fellowships Application
Submission Deadline: February 10, 2017

The Kimberly Green Latin American and Caribbean Center (LACC) at Florida International University is privileged to announce a call for applications for the Foreign Language and Area Studies (FLAS) Fellowship.

The FLAS fellowship supports language training in Less-Commonly-Taught Languages (LCTLs), including Portuguese, Haitian Creole, and Quechua. The fellowship assists in the advancement of knowledge, resources, and trained personnel for foreign language and area/international studies and supports the development of a qualified pool of international experts with global competence designed to meet U.S. national needs.

The Summer FLAS fellowship covers tuition and fees (up to $5,000) for the summer semester. Additionally, fellowship recipients are awarded a stipend (approximately $2,500 for undergraduate and graduate students).

Full-time, degree-seeking FIU graduate and undergraduate students in any discipline who are focusing their study on Latin America may apply. FLAS Fellowship recipients are required to complete at least one Latin American and Caribbean-related area studies course and one Portuguese, Haitian Creole, or Quechua course during the summer semester. Summer fellowships are offered to students participating in FLAS approved Summer Study Abroad programs only. For a list of approved programs, please visit <http://www.claspprograms.org/pages/detail/5/Language>. Students must confirm the FLAS approved Summer Study Abroad program is still accepting applications.

Undergraduate student recipients must be prepared to study one of the approved languages at the intermediate or advanced level. Proof of proficiency will be required for students applying for the FLAS Fellowship. Graduate students may study one of the approved languages (Portuguese, Haitian Creole, or Quechua) at the beginning, intermediate, or advanced levels. Students at the beginning level are welcome to apply, but preference will be given to graduate students at the intermediate or advanced level. Students in the professional schools (Business, Law, Medicine, Journalism, Social Work, Engineering, etc.) and those planning a career in U.S. government service are strongly encouraged to apply.

For more information on the FLAS Fellowship application process, please contact LACC Academic Programs Coordinator, Viroselie Caviedes (vcaviede@fiu.edu or 305-348-2894)
