

Doctoral Evidence Acquisition (DEA) Fellowship Guidelines – Fall 2019

The Doctoral Evidence Acquisition (DEA) Fellowship is specifically intended to support doctoral students for whom their current means of financial support would significantly interfere with or preclude their ability to collect the evidence needed for their doctoral research. A DEA Fellow is awarded a stipend to enable evidence acquisition that otherwise would not be possible. Evidence acquisition activities that might be supported by the DEA Fellowship include, but are not limited to, off-campus library/archive research, fieldwork, experiments, interviews, collection of specimens, etc.

While we will strive for university-wide representation in the selected fellowships, in awarding fellowships, priority will be given to programs that are able to affect performance metrics in this fiscal year or next, are in strategic areas as defined by the Board of Governors, and prior performance in meeting graduation expectations will be considered.

The UGS will only consider funding a student for time needed for the acquisition of evidence e.g., data collection, sample collection, interviewing, etc. We appreciate that a student may also need financial support during the data analysis and writing phase of their doctoral work, and the UGS provides an alternative support mechanism for these activities, i.e., the Dissertation Year Fellowship.

The UGS will make DEA Fellowship awards available three times per year. The present application is for funding that begins in Fall Term 2019. DEA Fellowships provide a stipend of $8,300 per term for one term. After a student has advanced to candidacy, he/she is considered full-time if enrolled for a minimum of three dissertation credit hours per term (this applies to both domestic and international students). Therefore, fellowship recipients must enroll in, and the UGS will provide a tuition waiver for, three dissertation credit hours per term. Any additional credits beyond the three that are required will be the financial responsibility of the student.

Publications resulting from research supported in part through this fellowship should acknowledge the financial support of a Florida International University Doctoral Evidence Acquisition Fellowship. A copy of any such publication should be sent to the UGS.

Please Note: UGS Fellowships can be awarded consecutively but not simultaneously.

In efforts to facilitate the application process for Fellowships, the UGS will continue to use the Academic Works portal (<https://fiu.academicworks.com/>) for the DEA Fellowship- Fall 2019 application cycle.

Doctoral Evidence Acquisition (DEA) Fellowship Guidelines – Fall 2019

EVALUATION CRITERIA

Primary consideration and justification related to the type of activities involved in data collection.

- Students current means of financial support would significantly interfere with or preclude their ability to collect the evidence needed for their doctoral research
- Clear and detailed timeline of evidence acquisition activities, including where they will take place (i.e. travel dates, confirmed letter of collaboration or invitation from labs that detail specific accommodations)
- The timeline clearly indicates the term when DEA support is needed (maximum award is one term). Please include a strong justification for a non-GA/TA assignment during your data collection
- Major Professor's track record as an outstanding mentor to students. For recently hired faculty the academic training and previous experiences will be used in the evaluation of their potential to serve as an outstanding mentor. Part of the evidence will be obtained from the major professor's record based on information provided in the accompanying letter of recommendation, and the Annual Evaluation and Mentoring Plans submitted for previously advised students
- Department's success in achieving the main expectations of the fellowship. Part of the evidence will be obtained from the Department's record based on the Annual Program Summary generated by UGS
